NOTICE OF SUPPLEMENTAL AUTHORITY

Earlier this year, Plaintiffs gave notice of the District of Idaho’s opinion preliminarily enjoining enforcement of 36 C.F.R. § 327.13, which bans the carrying of guns for self-defense on land administered by the Army Corps of Engineers. The court found that this regulation likely violated the Second Amendment. Morris v. U.S. Corps of Army Engineers, 990 F. Supp. 2d 1082 (D. Idaho 2014).

This week, the District of Idaho granted summary judgment to the Morris plaintiffs. See Exhibit A. Notably, the Morris court held that no standards of review were applicable in assessing the law’s constitutionality, as the challenged provision destroyed the right completely. See Exh. A, slip op. at 4.
